Guam in COR 1; Remain Indoors;
Shelters Open; GMH and GRMC Updates; Flight Updates

Governor Lou Leon Guerrero has placed Guam in Condition of Readiness (COR) 1 at 10 p.m. this evening, October 9, 2023. At COR1, destructive winds are possible within the next 12 hours.

The community is advised to remain indoors until COR 4 is announced.

Simultaneously, Joint Region Marianas (JRM), Naval Base Guam (NBG), Andersen Air Force Base (AAFB), and Marine Corps Base Camp Blaz (MCBCB) are in Tropical Cyclone Condition of Readiness (TCCOR) 1 at 10 p.m., Monday, October 9, 2023. The Department of Defense (DoD) will delay implementing some of the TCCOR1 actions to minimize impact to installation services. For installation-specific operations or questions, please consult the respective installation Facebook page or reach out to the Public Affairs Officer.

Bolaven Update

As of 7 p.m., Tropical Storm Bolaven was located near 11.5 degrees north latitude and 149.0 degrees east longitude, about 315 miles east-southeast of Guam, moving west-northwest at 12 mph, with maximum sustained winds of 70 mph. Bolaven is forecast to intensify through Tuesday, possibly becoming a typhoon late tonight or early Tuesday morning.

Tropical storm force winds of 39 mph or more are expected for Guam by Tuesday midday and lasting through Wednesday morning. At this time, the closest point of approach to Guam is 8 p.m. Tuesday. This could change.

Bolaven continues to strengthen and approach the Marianas, and the track has shifted slightly south with a passage through the islands but still tracking in-between Rota and Tinian Tuesday evening. Any deviation of the storm track is possible and can make a difference for the islands. Tropical Storm Bolaven should not be underestimated. All islands will feel the passage of Bolaven, but any one, or two, islands could face a direct hit (maximum intensity).
